PREFACE.

THIS collection is remarkable for the vast number of specimens of the regular coinage of the country—not merely for those easily obtainable but for rarities—many of the highest having example after example, as for instance the 1796 half dollars, two ; 1797 six ; 1793 cents, eighteen ; 1799 four, including one of the best known, etc. The gold coins are also very choice.

Indeed it seems as if the collector either was so attached to his coins that he could not bear to part with even pieces that became duplicates by purchases to improve his collection, or he had enjoyed completing set after set of the silver and copper coins until he had apparently several series.

Yet this assiduous collector of United States coins, Thomas Ramsden, was born September 14, 1833, in Yorkshire, England.

His parents gave him a liberal education at a private academy and at the age of fifteen he was apprenticed to learn the steam and gas fitting trade. In 1853 he came to America with his parents who had decided to make their home in Salem, Ohio, where he resided until 1859, when he removed to Pittsburg, and was engaged in the plumbing, gas and steam-fitting business until his death, April 14, 1890.

He was President of the Western Pennsylvania Numismatic Society until the time of its dissolution in December, 1889.

Mr. Ramsden's collections of books, coins, medals, minerals and flowers speak of his ardent love of the beautiful in every form, and show that he possessed that fine intelligence to be found in the true collector.

We would call attention to the numismatic books, and particularly to the sets of the American Journal of Numismatics, which will afford collectors who may have begun their subscriptions since 1880, an excellent opportunity to obtain the earlier volumes of this storehouse of American numismatics.

We guarantee every coin and medal genuine.

Bids will be faithfully executed, and catalogues supplied by the other regular dealers and the undersigned.

Priced catalogue after sale, postpaid, 75 cents, in advance, unless the person ordering has a current account.

Very respectfully,

S. H. & H. CHAPMAN,

Numismatists and Antiquaries.

HALF CENTS.

- 1006 1793 Good. Surface oxidized. Rare.

1007 1794 Small head. Very good. Light olive.

1008 1796 Pole to cap. Obverse everything shows, and while only poor, would usually be called good for this date; but we believe it is more correct to give exact condition on rare dates as would be done on the common ones. R. as usual is not equal to obverse, being more worn, and the words HALF CENT are barely discernible. Excessively rare.

1009 1796 Dr. Edward's struck copy. Uncirculated. Light olive.

1010 1796 Dr. Edward's struck copy. Very fine. From Pittsburgh fire, slightly pitted.

1011 1800, Good. Light nicks.
